NO APPOINTMENT TO COMMISSIONERSHIP YET

County Committee Recommends Rowan Saufley—Judge Hardin Says He Will Call A New Deal

Interest in the race for Master Commissioner of the Lincoln Circuit Court continued at fever heat Monday, and much speculation was indulged in as to who will receive the appointment.

A meeting of the Lincoln county Democratic Committee was called by Chairman George L. Penny for Monday, and seven of the 12 members of the committee signed a recommendation of Rowan Saufley for the place. The other five were in favor of H. J. McRoberts or of not interfering with the right of Judge Hardin to appoint whomever he chose, so they said.

Judge Hardin came over from Danville in the afternoon, and accepted the action of the committee as a recommendation, which he said had been his purpose from the first in having committee action. It developed however that Rowan Saufley and his friends had understood him to tell them that he would appoint the man the committee recommended, but Judge Hardin stated that such had not been his intention.

Considerable feeling seems to have been engendered over the matter, and just before he left for Harrodsburg, Judge Hardin stated that he would appoint the man he pleased, without influence of any kind, and that matters had come to a point in the campaign for the office, that he intended to wipe the slate off and begin a new deal. It was suggested about town that as a result of the point to which the fight for the place had come that Judge Hardin might select some outsider who was not an applicant for the office, as a compromise and thus prevent any further feeling on the part of any of the candidates. The friends of Mr. Saufley were very insistent that since he secured the committee endorsement he should have the appointment. The friends of Mr. McRoberts are not saying much but are "sitting steady in the boat."

The recommendation, signed by seven members of the committee in favor of Rowan Saufley, was as follows:

To Hon. Chas. A. Hardin, Judge L. C. C. We the undersigned members of the Democratic Executive Committee of Lincoln County hereby recommend the appointment of H. J. R. Saufley to the office of Master Commissioner of the Lincoln Circuit Court upon the grounds of fidelity to the Democratic party, service to said party and regularity in all actions. We trust that you can see your way clear to make this appointment. Respectfully submitted,

NEWLAND—EADS

Popular Young Couple Are Quietly Wedded Monday Afternoon.

One of the most popular young couples of Lincoln county, Miss Kate Newland and Mr. Alfred Eads, surprised their many friends by quietly repairing to the Baptist parsonage late Monday afternoon, where they were united in marriage by Rev. J. B. Jones. Immediately afterward they left via auto for Harrodsburg and other points for a short trip, after which they will return here to make their home.

Mr. Eads is one of the best known young farmers of Lincoln county being a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Eads. He stands high with everyone and has the confidence and esteem of all. He is to be most heartily congratulated upon winning such a charming helpmeet. His bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Newland, and is one of the most attractive young girls in Lincoln county, being as beautiful in mind and heart as she is lovely in face and figure. She is an accomplished musician, and is undoubtedly one of the most popular girls in the community.

The wedding was in no wise a runaway affair, but it was desired to make it a simple and quiet event.

Their host of friends will tender sincere congratulations and best wishes for all the happiness in the world.

Value of Cheerfulness.
Cheerfulness is a thing to be more profoundly grateful for than all that genius ever inspired or talent accomplished. Next best to spontaneous cheerfulness is deliberate, intended and persistent cheerfulness which we can create, cultivate and so foster and cherish that after a few years the world will never suspect that it was but a hereditary gift.—Helen Hunt Jackson.

BECKHAM'S TRIUMPH

Former Governor At Head Of Party Again, Says Richardson

Under the heading "Governor Beckham's Personal and Political Triumph," Editor Jim Richardson, in his excellent Democratic paper, the Glasgow Times in last week's issue pays a high compliment to the ability and leadership of Governor J. C. W. Beckham as the master hand and mind that united the dominant factions of the Democratic party in Kentucky, and by his superb generalship returned the Bluegrass State to the Democratic Column effectually crushing the Republican party, and made possible the election of the State ticket headed by Hon. James B. McCreary. Col. Richardson's article which is an able one, follows:

"Viewed from any standpoint the recent Democratic victory was a great personal and political triumph for ex-Gov. J. C. W. Beckham, with a swiftness and thoroughness that was dramatic, it marked his return to leadership just when the forces of evil were on the point of celebrating his demise, confident that the temporary thwarting of his ambitions would drive him into the obscurity of private life, he seized the helm of his party and steered the old ship of Democracy over dangerous sunken reefs and through treacherous seas into a safe harbor. His support of Senator McCreary made success possible. With one master stroke he united the two dominant factions in the State and having thus healed the dissension that formerly ended in defeat, he brought about a unity and harmony and inspired the rank and file and wrecked the enemy before their numbers and enthusiasm."

"The return of Gov. Beckham to power is a silencing rebuke to his foes, and a proper reward for the wrongs he has suffered at the hands of that characterless combination which robbed the Democracy of a seat in the United States Senate, brought disgrace upon the State, his betrayal left no bitterness in his heart. He felt secure in the affection and confidence of that vast body of Democrats that are never reached by the contamination of the lobby. They resent the effort made by these corrupting influences to humiliate and destroy him, and at the first opportunity they gave expression to their trust in him and their condemnation of his enemies by again placing the scepter of party authority in his hands with the assurance that under his honest fearless leadership Kentucky would remain true to the faith of the fathers. The political history of this country records no higher personal tribute to any man."

"Gov. Beckham has proven himself worthy in every way of the love his people bear him, when a corrupt lobby set aside the verdict of the Democracy expressed at the polls, he made no bitter complaint, but with manly forbearance, and a patience surpassing understanding, bided his time, referring the whole controversy back to the voters. He has not waited in vain. The wisdom of his course has been confirmed, the party which has honored him so signally in the past gave overwhelming proof of its devotion now. It is content to follow where he leads, having an abiding faith in his patriotism, his judgement and his selflessness."

We congratulate the Democracy upon this act of justice toward one of its ablest and most deserving members. Kentucky needs the direct whose pride in the State will outweigh all personal aims and party necessities. We are entering upon an era of development and progress that will call for the service of real leaders. Let us extend a hearty welcome to one who has already left the impression of his character and ability upon the Commonwealth."

LIFE SENTENCE FOR

YOUNG WALTER CARSON

Hustonsville Rural Route Carrier Is Convicted at Liberty of Murder, But Will Appeal.

Walter Carson, the young Hustonsville rural route carrier, who shot and killed a farmer named George Cochran over in Casey county while delivering his mail one day last summer, was given a life sentence in the penitentiary by a jury in the Circuit court at Liberty late Saturday. The whole week had been consumed with the trial of this case, and it attracted much attention by reason of the prominence of the young man charged with the crime, and the circumstances attending it.

It is said that the case will be immediately appealed to the Court of Appeals on a number of alleged errors and because of the refusal of the lower court to grant a change of venue to another county, where he feeling would not be so strong against Carson, his victim having been a Casey county man.

Attorneys Rollin Hurt, of Columbia, George Stone of Danville, and Robert Harding, of Danville, who defended Carson, are said to have made a very strong case in his behalf, but the prosecution also fought the case vigorously, being assisted by Attorney W. J. Price, of Danville.

12 CENTS A POUND

Paid By Kincaid For Tobacco He Says Is Mighty Fine.

What W. P. Kincaid says is the finest crop of tobacco he has seen in years, was sold by W. D. Williams and Jordan Middleton to him last week. It was of splendid color and the silkiest of texture and Mr. Kincaid paid them 12 cents a pound for it, which is the high water mark for tobacco around these parts this year and is a figure that is going to be reached very seldom this fall. There were 10,000 pounds of the weed, and it was very uniform throughout. Lincoln county can raise as good or better tobacco than any county in the state if the growers will only take pains with their crops and that what these two gentlemen did who have sold their product at what is going to be a mighty fancy price this year.

Soft Water for Jock Tea.

"New York water is too hard to make good tea," said the English matron. "The use of soft water is one secret of tea making that New York people seem never to have learned. Before we found that we could buy soft water bottled we softened the water for making tea with 'inch of soda.'"

Motors Displacing Horses.

London takes the census of certain busy streets every year. One of the facts adduced by it is the progressive displacement of the horse drawn vehicles by those propelled by motors.

RETIRED GEORGIA PLANTER ADVISES TO KIDNEY SUFFERERS

Regarding the wonderful curative merits of your Swamp-Root, I cannot say too much. After suffering severely for three years or more with severe pain caused by weak kidneys, I was finally induced to try Swamp-Root through a testimonial I read in one of the newspapers. I was in such a condition that I was obliged to arise from my bed six or eight times every night. I purchased a fifty cent bottle and before it was used I felt so much relief that I purchased a one-dollar bottle and by the time this was taken the old pains had left my back and I could sleep the whole night through. I am a retired planter, 70 years of age, and owing to Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, I am in the best of health and feel like a boy. I am always glad to recommend Swamp-Root to those who are in need of it. Sincerely yours,
C. E. USSERY,
Bowersville, Ga.

Personally appeared before me, this 8th of September, 1909, C. E. USSERY, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

BEAUTIFUL TRIBUTE TO GRAND MASTER JACKSON

Masons Gather Around Banquet Board At London To Do Honor To State Leader

One of the most beautiful tributes of love and respect ever paid any man by his home people was the reception and banquet given at London, November 13, by the Masonic Lodge in honor of Hon. David Jackson who is the present Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Kentucky, Free and Accepted Masons.

At half past five o'clock the lodge parlor began to fill, and when the doors of the banquet hall were opened, about one hundred and fifty

Grand Master David Jackson.

Masons and their lady friends were seated for a banquet feast, the like of which is seldom seen, even in Kentucky.

Music and cut flowers, beautiful women and a seemingly inexhaustible supply of good things to eat were the means of entertainment presented to the craft, who were there both from the mountains and the Blue Grass.

It was a tribute by his home people of which any man should be proud, and it was an evidence of love and respect that but few men have the good fortune to be tendered.

The substantial feast concluded John W. Brown, of Mt. Vernon, as the toastmaster announced that the best end of the evening's entertainment was still in store, and he proceeded at once to unloose it in a most captivating speech abounding in good humor and keen satire, that cuts deep but leaves no scar. He introduced eleven speakers, each of whom in short, catchy speeches kept the good humor of the company in happiest vein.

One of the speakers gave a bit of personal history as reason for his great devotion to the Masonic institution. He said that during the Civil war he was in the mountains of Kentucky as a military spy for the Union army. After he had gone to bed he heard an alarm at his door and upon opening, found confronting him an officer of the Confederate army, who told him that his purpose in that region was known to the commanding Confederate officer, and at day light he would be arrested as a spy.

"But," said his Confederate visitor, "I have sat with you in a Masonic lodge. You have not gotten the information you came in search of and now come, go with me; I will show you the means of safe escape."

"And," said the banquet speaker, "at high noon of next day, the sun which lighted the deep passes of the Cumberland Mountains looked down upon the hasty forms of 16 Union spies dangling from the trees of the mountain side, and had I not been a Free Mason, myself would have been the seventeenth victim at that hanging, instead of a speaker at this banquet."

It was a unique revival of personal experience—one which aptly represented the strength of the Masonic ties.

The closing speech was of course made by the Grand Master, the guest of honor.

He declared his devotion to the order in no uncertain terms and his affection for the men of his own lodge he expressed in a feeling way.

The lodge of Stanford was represented by a number of Masons and contributed one of the speakers of the evening.

It is the universal sentiment of those who attended that the boasted cooks of the Blue Grass have equal competitors in the ladies of the mountain section.

There is little danger from a cold or from an attack of the grip except when followed by pneumonia, and this never happens when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. This remedy has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable cures of colds and grip and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. For sale by all dealers.

AGED GERMAN FARMER COMMITS SUICIDE

Hangs Himself In Bedroom At His Home Near Ottenheim—Had Said He Wanted to Die

Chris Ficke, an aged German living a mile from Carter's Store, on the Ottenheim pike, committed suicide early Monday morning by hanging himself from a wooden stob in his room. His wife had been out of the room but a few minutes when he committed the deed, for when she went back to their bedroom to call him for breakfast, he was dead.

Ficke had fastened a long and heavy cord to the wooden stob and put his head through a slip noose on the other end, strangling himself to death.

The evening before while sitting and chatting with a young man named Arnold, who lives near, he had expressed the wish that he might die, on account of his old age and infirmities, but Arnold did not take the matter seriously. Mr. Ficke was 80 years of age, and was born in Germany. He came to this country a number of years ago and had engaged in farming in the Ottenheim section since then. He is survived by his wife and several grown children.

Coroner George P. Bright went out and held an inquest. He empaneled a jury of six German citizens of the community, for whom young Arnold acted as interpreter. The jury returned a verdict in accordance with the facts.

FATHER MAKES SON TELL WHERE HE GOT BOOZE

And Judge Menefee Fines Ed Satter $75 For Selling Him A Quart. —Satter Appeals.

Walter Killian a young man of Rowland, came to town Saturday night and procuring a quart of old booze, proceeded to celebrate the approaching Christmas season. When he appeared before Police Judge John N. Menefee, Jr., Monday he refused to tell where he had bought the liquor, and Judge Menefee politely informed him that he had a way to make him tell. Walter swore that he would rot in jail a thousand years before he told, but the Judge sent for his father, and after the latter had used a big whip with telling effect at the proper place for a few minutes, Walter decided to tell where he had secured the booze. He said that he had bought it from Ed Satter, a well known local negro.

Judge Menefee then had Satter arrested and upon Killian's testimony fined him $75 and costs. Satter appealed the case to Judge Bailey's court and the further trial had not been held when the I. J. went to press.

Liquid Glue.

An excellent cold liquid glue is made as follows: Dilute 2 to 3% parts crude nitric acid with 98 to 99% of water, soak in this 25 parts of glue for twenty-four hours and then heat the mixture until it is homogeneous. The quantity of acid used depends on the quality of the glue.
